

So Beautiful It Hurts

Rupert Holmes

So beautiful it hurts
Oh so bittersweet your love has come to be
So blinded that I hide my eyes to see
So much to me it gives
So deep, so deep in me it lives
So beautiful it hurts

So tenderly it strikes
So gentle are the nails that graze my skin
So painful that I beg you to begin
So soft and so intense
So slow I know, I know I've no defense
So beautiful it hurts

So to cruel to be so kind
To give me love you know I can't refuse
Give me what I can't afford to lose
So much to me it gives
So deep, so deep in me it lives
So beautiful it hurts
