

You Remind Me of You

Rupert Holmes

You don't remind me of starlight
You're nothing like a star
You're not like the haze
Of slow smoky days
You are what you are

Oh but you do it to me
You make me see, everything as new
Reminding me of
The one that I love
The only thing I know is true
Oh, only you

You're not the sweep of a snowfall
Or mist of morning's break
You're not like a dream
You are what you seem
You're there when I wake

Oh but you do it to me
You make me see everything as new
Reminding me of
The one that I love
The only thing I know is true
You remind me baby of you
You remind me darling of you

You're not the moon, the sun
I don't know why we try to be
I'd just as soon be done with them
So you and I can be you and me

You're not the echo of someone
I feel no deja vu
And each time we kiss
I don't reminisce
I look straight at you

I don't see canyons of skies
Simply your eyes, coming into view
Reminding me of
Your life and my love
In everything you say and do
You remind me baby of you
You remind me baby of you

You remind me of
You remind me baby of-
