

Real Old-Fashioned Broken Heart

Sammy Kershaw

I played with love, I thought I was a sophisticated kind
I looked at life like modern lovers do
It's a game, I said, from bed to bed, never hurts these days
But now the joke's on me since I lost you

'Cause I'm playing Hank Williams on the jukebox
Order up ole whiskey at the bar
Through my tears, I'll light another lucky
I've got a real old-fashioned broken heart

I'd been around, in and out of lover's arms before
Thought it was just for fun, this day and time
"Love", I said, "Is just in your head, you don't feel it any more
But losing you has made me change my mind"

'Cause I'm playing Hank Williams on the jukebox
Order up ole whiskey at the bar
Through my tears, I'll light another lucky
I've got a real old-fashioned broken heart
I've got a real old-fashioned broken heart
