

You say that history never repeats
But I guess it does
You told me forever
I guess you just changed your mind
Was it the way I behaved
To try and make you stay?
I swear the more I loved you
The further you pushed me away

Your skin on my skin is what's been missing
In my sweet dreams you're the one that I'm kissing, now you're gone
Are we running out of luck, good God
Cause I'm running out of time to talk and now you're gone

I just wanna know why when it comes to you
I'm blind
It's cause you come on up close to me
And you whisper 'it's alright'

And did you know that your skin on my skin
Is what's been on my mind?
But the last time I saw you
You said it would all be fine

Your skin on my skin is what's been missing
In my sweet dreams you're the one that I'm kissing

Now you're gone
Are we running out of luck, good God
Cause I'm running out of time to talk cause now you're gone

How can you go from forever
To maybe one day?
You said you still love me
But in a different way

Your skin on my skin is what's been missing
In my sweet dreams you're the one that I'm kissing, now you're gone
Are we running out of luck, good God
Cause I'm running out of time to talk and now you're gone

How can you go from forever
To maybe one day?
You said you still love me
But in a different way

Your skin on my skin is what's been missing
In my sweet dreams you're the one that I'm kissing, now you're gone
Are we running out of luck, good God
Cause I'm running out of time to talk and now you're gone
