

Silver Road

Sarah Harmer

I'll be way down the silver road
I'll go where the moon has it lit up
Turn off your headlights and go slowly
I don't want it to let up

Had you been thinking that you were all alone
While I still thought of you
A word every once in a while
Thinking some of it could be true
Held in a beam of a light
I thought we shared
Shone between two shores
Wants to be travelled like the gravel that Runs from my door to yours

I'll be way down the silver road
I'll go where the moon has it lit up
Turn off your headlights and go slowly
I don't want it to let up
Way down the silver road
I'll go where the moon has it lit up
Turn off your headlights and go slowly
I don't want it to let up
I'll be way down the silver road
I'll go where the moon has it lit up
Turn off your headlights and go slowly
I don't want it to let up
Way down the silver road
I'll go where the moon has it lit up
Turn off your headlights and go slowly
I don't want it to let up
