

Avalon

Sarah Vaughan

Every morning memories stray
Across the sea where flying fishes play
And as the night is falling
I find that I'm recalling
That blissful all enthralling day

Just before I sailed away
She said the word I longed to hear her say
I tenderly caressed her
Close to my heart I pressed her
Upon that golden yesterday

I found my love in Avalon
Beside the bay
I left my love in Avalon and sailed away
I dream of her and Avalon
From dusk till dawn
And so I think I'll travel on
To Avalon