

If the Sun Rose

Saratoga

Now that my voice has hardly turned
My own life is just a sigh
Then I'd have to rest
I am in the middle of the travel
And the evidence has won me
So it made me cry.

And the time will take me back
To a moment without pain
It will never be the same, I can't forget.

I couldn't reach the understanding
I never thought that it was coming
That cruel disease
Feeling that my life is like a thread
That it's suddenly cut off
And don't notify

In the shadows of my room
I need to hear your voice
Now you're sleeping beside me
I have to wait

IF THE SUN ROSE WITHOUT YOU
I DON'T KNOW WHAT IT WOULD BE OF ME
DEATH HAS SHOWED ME
HOW IS PLAYING WITH HIS CARDS AND I CAN'T KNOW WHAT IS GOING ON TRYING TO GET OUT
I DON'T WANT TO ADMIT
MY LONELINESS

Sleeping just in six or seven minutes
But the time is like a tempest
Enough to sink down
Demons that stay under my bed
Won't stop talking tonight
They won't leave me rest

In my watch it's six o'clock now the harder times are back and the light waits very calm over the glass

Escaping with my mind in other places but my brain is no replaying cannot leave me in peace and it shakes again my soul striking all that cool that's always coming with reality

The first shining of the sun makes my heart being full of light
I can see you beside me
You are my scape.
