

Passing Train

Sawyer Brown

I hear you in the distance, and I see you in my mind
I wonder where you're go to, when you leave me behind.
I Wonder who waits for you, dreaming just like I,
And talkin to that passin train in the night.

Tell me just how far that I should go,
tell me leavin ain't meanin, I'll always be gone.
Can you promise me tomorrow, when today's no longer mine,
And talkin to that passin train in the night.

The world lies out before you, yet you keep comin back,
tellin no secrets, never losin track.
This place you're goin, do you have to go alone?
tell me passin train I gotta know.

Tell me just how far that I should go,
tell me leavin ain't meanin I'll always be gone.
Can you promise me tomorrow , when today's no longer mine
And talkin to that passin train in the night.

I see the wheels turnin
and I feel a fire inside me burning, am I learning?
Guess I'll never find tomorrow ,till today's no longer mine,
and just like that passin train in the night.

Whoa ooohhhh, just like that passin train in the night.
