

Revelator

Screaming Trees

Been a long time now we're face to face
The law tore me down and I'm going away
Every piece of it hurts and I know it, babe
I have become convinced there's no other way

Every piece of it hurts,
I hold you close here where I stand
I've tried for one last breath
I've been awake for days and nights
And I know what's true

Destiny is never free
But maybe fate's confusing me
Bring it closer
Show me who you are

Monotone chromium revelator
Hang my head in shame
Monotone chromium, I got a revelator
Take my cares away, every piece, it hurts

Now to the mirror for one last look
At what I burned away
And took the planet's
Every heart beat passing by

Life is bordered every side
I don't exist between the times
I said farewell
Friends, don't you know me?

Monotone chromium revelator
Hang my head in shame
Monotone chromium, I got a revelator
Take my cares away

I hold you close here where I stand
I've tried for one last breath
I've been awake for days and nights
And I know what's true

Destiny is never free
But maybe fate's confusing me
Bring it closer
Show me who you are

Monotone chromium revelator
Hang my head in shame
Monotone chromium, I got a revelator
Take my cares away, oh yeah

Monotone chromium revelator
Monotone chromium revelator
Monotone chromium, I got a revelator
Monotone chromium

Monotone chromium revelator

Monotone chromium revelator

I hold you close here where I stand
I've tried for one last breath
I've been awake for days and nights
And I know what's true