

What's Really Good

Seaway

Are you surprised that he's not here?
I thought you said he was reliable.
I'm happy that you've come to know your place.

There's been way too many times
Where it seems you've lost your spine.

Again and again you're calling a friend
When there's no one out there.
You say that I'm wrong. I know that I'm right.
You're running out of lifelines.

I can't catch a break. This doesn't makes sense.
This line will never take and I'm spent.

How can every single try
Spawn a thousand bullshit lies?

Again and again you're calling a friend
When there's no one out there.
You say that I'm wrong. I know that I'm right.
You're running out of lifelines.
Again and again you're calling a friend
When there's no one out there.
You say that I'm wrong. I know that I'm right.
You're running out of lifelines.

You'll never understand not knowing.
You're all knowing.
You'll never understand not knowing.
You're all knowing.
Here you are, here's your deathbed.
You'll never understand not knowing.

You've lost your spine
And you've lost your mind.

Again and again you're calling a friend
When there's no one out there.
You say that I'm wrong. I know that I'm right.
You're running out of lifelines.
Again and again you're calling a friend
When there's no one out there.
You say that I'm wrong. I know that I'm right.
You're running out of lifelines.
