

You

Seinabo Sey

Won't you tell me to my face
If I'm bound to be replaced
I've been thinking you might be the one
Won't you show me where you're coming from

I've been saving you a space
You already won this race
Cause it seems like you are on the run
Won't you tell me what you're hiding from

I need you so I
I need you so I
I need you so I will stay
Yes I will be standing right where you left me
Until you look my way

If you tell me what to do
I'll move mountains showing proof
If you let me I'll turn on the light
Show you all I see in you is right
We might need to speak the truth
All the lies are feeling used
Are you sure you nothing good will come
If we keep on marching to this drum

I need you so I
I need you so I
I need you so I will stay
Yes I will be standing right where you left me
Until you look my way

Won't you tell me to my face
If I'm bound to be replaced
I've been thinking you might be the one
Won't you show me where you're coming from
