

Android 18

Seraphim

She's been created for a world of destruction
No amount of time can heal her wounds
Destroying life is her only function
She can't be stopped

All the traits of a human
but there is no life behind her eyes
Instead there's nothing but wires (unhuman)
She will always be Android 18

(unhuman!)

Those eyes, those eyes I'll always remember Losing hold of the hope I thought I had (I thought I had)
I'm so sick of having emotions and I'm tired of being controlled
So it's time to take things back into my own hands
I'm so done with being cold

All the traits of a human
but there is no life behind her eyes
Instead there's nothing but wires (unhuman)
She will always be Android 18

Those eyes, those eyes I'll always remember
The ones that lit the embers that destroyed the world I knew (That I knew) x2

Can we believe everything you say?
Can she still be the girl she once was?
Is there anyway to cease the hate inside her to prevent the ending she is heading towards? x2

We can't escape our destiny.
