

Comatose State

Seventh Day Slumber

She said the world wouldn't even notice
If she wasn't here anymore
So hard to be faithful
To a God that she's never seen before

And everyone's preaching
But no one is reaching her way

Now is the time to open our eyes
There's so many people in pain
Arise and take your place
Wake up from your comatose state

He's lost inside addiction
And images flash through his head
In the dark of this affliction
There's times that he'd rather be dead

And everyone's preaching
But no one is reaching his way

Now is the time to open our eyes
There's so many people in pain
Arise and take your place
Wake up from your comatose state

Now is the time to open our eyes
There's so many people in pain
Arise and take your place
Wake up from your comatose state