

Trust In Me

Seventh Day Slumber

You been waiting on the rain to clear so you can dance
Just a break from all the chaos so you can catch your breath
You don't need to see the ending of your storm to know it's the re
Or see the footprints in the sand to know that I am here

There's freedom that you've never known
A peace that comes from letting go
Trust in me
Trust in me
A love so deep it knows no end
A refuge from the storm within
Trust in me
Trust in me

Don't always trust your eyes they can only see so far
Like poor reflections of the truth it's not really where you ar e
And you can walk on water if you keep your eyes on me
And the waves won't take you over if you would just beleve

There's freedom that you've never known
A peace that comes from letting go
Trust in me
Trust in me
A love so deep it knows no end
A refuge from the storm within
Trust in me
Trust in me

I remember every tear you've cried
You were never alone
I am by your side
All the pain and hurt that you've been through
In every moment I am here with you
With you

There's freedom that you've never known
A peace that comes from letting go
Trust in me
Trust in me
A love so deep it knows no end
A refuge from the storm within
Trust in me
Trust in me
Trust in me
