

Your Eyes

Seventh Day Slumber

I wish I could forget the way I looked back then
I can't believe what I've become
Every picture speaks a thousand words
It's the story of "I'm not enough"

Don't wanna relive the past
I just wanna get back
To feeling comfortable in my own skin
Every step I take
Leads me further away
And the story plays on again

You say there's beauty in me
But it's so hard to believe
Why can't I see me through your eyes?
You say you love me but why?
Feels like I fail every time
I just wanna see me through your eyes

(Oh-whoa, oh-whoa-oh)
I just wanna see me through your eyes

I wish I could forgive myself, relieve the guilt
So much I wish I hadn't done
Every morning brings new life to breathe
But I don't feel like waking up

All their whispers feed
Insecurities
Starving everything I could have been
Can I separate,
From the masquerade,
Before the story comes to an end?

You say there's beauty in me
But it's so hard to believe
Why can't I see me through your eyes?
You say you love me but why?
Feels like I fail every time
I just wanna see me through your eyes

(Oh-whoa, oh-whoa-oh)
I just wanna see me through your eyes
(Oh-whoa, oh-whoa-oh)
I just wanna see me through your eyes

Show me what you see (see in me)
Trying to believe (to believe)

You say there's beauty in me
But it's so hard to believe
Why can't I see me through your eyes?
You say you love me but why?
Feels like I fail every time
I just wanna see me through your eyes

You say there's beauty in me

But it's so hard to believe
Why can't I see me through your eyes?
You say you love me but why?
Feels like I fail every time
I just wanna see me through your eyes

(Oh-whoa, oh-whoa-oh)
I just wanna see me through your eyes
(Oh-whoa, oh-whoa-oh)
I just wanna see me through your eyes
