

All By Myself

Sheena Easton

Starlight shining on the boats in the harbour
One night maybe I'll be sailing away How could you leave me now, without saying a word, to carry on

All by myself, all by myself

Love flows in and out my life like a river
And I know maybe I won't make it this time
But if you were with me now, I would surely be falling apart, so I'll carry on

All by myself, all by myself

Every night I close the light and lose myself in you I wonder why the good things die, leaving all the dreams to see me through

I can't hold on, I can't hold on to you

I'm all by myself, I'm all by myself

All by myself, all by myself (repeats out)