

I Really Don't Want To Know

Skeeter Davis

How many arms have held you
And hated to let you go
How many, how many, I wonder
But I really don't want to know.

How many lips have kissed you
And set your soul aglow
How many, how many, I wonder
But I really don't want to know.

So always make me wonder
Always make me guess
And even if I ask you
Darling, don't confess.

Just let it remain your secret
But darling, I love you so
No wonder, no wonder, I wonder
No, I really don't want to know...
