The Smashing Pumpkins

And I stumbled onto you As you stumbled over me And you say the fates were cruel For throwing us together I always loved you so Especially when you'd go All the world must know All the world must know That I loved you so

It's a pity we're apart It's a shame you broke my heart But I've got a new girlfriend She looks a lot like you dear No-one could ever do dear All the world must know That I loved you so Especially when you'd go Especially when you'd go Especially when you'd go Away and leave me here Go away and leave me alone All the world must know
