Deny Me

Tell me does your pride still bleed, When you see me succeed Is that the gist of your story? Now you best get used to it, Cause I ain't about to quit And I'm just now getting started

Shame me, Claim me, or decieve me You grow sick every time you hear me say believe me

Every time I get one foot up, You want to tear it down You deny me...Deciever Every time I get one foot up... You tear it down, knock it down, tear it down Believer....Deny Me

I feel your hand on my throat, As well as the knife in my back And the whole time you keep smiling. What is your reason for this, Why won't your hate just quit Life would be better if you weren't struggling

Shame me, Claim me, or Decieve me You grow sick every time you hear me say believe me

Every time I get one foot up, You want to tear it down You deny me...Deciever Every time I get one foot up... You tear it down, knock it down, tear it down Believer...Deny Me

What's wrong with your world? Doesn't taste the same as mine. Aren't the shades the same as mine? Pain, Agony, Regret, Fear Just dreams whisked away, taken away

So now does your pride still bleed, when you see me succeed Now that you know I'll keep trying Can your weak mind digest, All that I"m feeding it

Every time I get one foot up, You want to tear it down You deny me...Deciever Every time I get one foot up... You tear it down, knock it down, tear it down Believer...Deny Me Y
