

Time Waits For No One

SoKo

The past
Has been chasing me down for days
And I'm purposely ignoring my phone
I'm permanently broken
From being played by people like you

I never understood why you said
That we'll be lovers forever and you'll come back to get me
You were haunted by your previous ghost
But I don't want to be second best
Make me feel the best
I want to believe you
But I'm losing hope

Everything about you is a lie
Made up in a movie
That I don't ever want to watch
Everything about you is a lie
And I realize now
That you turned my happy place into hell

The past has been crippling me for days
Torturing my every bones
I dwell into confusion
When I remember everything you do with your fingers
I hold on to you
But I'm losing hope

Time waits for no one
Time waits for no one
Time waits for no one
Waits for no one
Waits for no one
Waits for no one
Waits for no one
Time waits for no one
Waits for no one
