

Gone Today

Soldiers of Jah Army

When I look to see the sun, I can feel positive and negative at once It could be a brand new day or the same old one So I wait just to see exactly what kind of day it's gonna be Looking my life is what I need

And I could be gone today, tomorrow could be close or it could be so far away And when I guess what I'm trying to say, if you can hear me now just know I'm so, so happy today

When I look the see the moon, I can feel those before me who've all done it too I can see through all me troubles and somehow they got thru Cuz we're all family even if we don't act like it or just don't see I guess I'm thankful for who you think we could be

And I could be gone today, tomorrow could be close or it could be so far away And when I guess what I'm trying to say, if you can hear me now just know I'm so, so happy today

There could maybe be something else, else Like not something you see or touch but something that you felt And there could maybe be a road, a road Like underground sin, it stays in the corners of my soul

And I could be gone today, tomorrow could be close or it could be so far away I guess what I'm trying to say, if you can hear me now just know I'm so, I'm so happy
