

Suddenly

Solomon Burke

Suddenly
My whole life seems to have changed
I'm a man floating on air
And I feel like a king
The world around me
Seems to be my domain
I'm in love, I'm in love
I'm in love all over again

[?] suddenly
Ooh, one day as I was walking along
You see, the girl of my dreams, just came to me
Like an old, sweet, sentimental song
That sad sound of music
That once was so sad to my ear
Is no longer sad, as sweet as can be
That's the only sound I want to hear now

[?] suddenly
Suddenly, suddenly

Suddenly
I sing no more sad songs
I don't cry at night
I'm just happy every night
The whole night long
There's somethin' inside of me
That starts that flame alone
I'm in love, I'm in love, I'm in love
And this time I'm sure
Yes, sir, I am

It happened suddenly, my friend
[?] black magic entwined
And that strange, funny feeling I just had Chills are runnin' up and down my spine
Tingling, chilling
Brilliant, so willing
A feeling I never felt before
I'm in love, I'm in love, I'm in love
And this time I'm sure

If you ever been hurt, my friend
You can fall in love again
It'll just come suddenly