

Back into Your World

Son Volt

Living for the moment
It flashes and fades
And takes you down
Familiar deserted byways
Shelf-stored memories
Lead you where you been
No long ago
And guess who's guessing now?

Let me back into your world
At the blink of the eye
No uncertain terms
Let me back into your world

You should know
What is real by now
Let the judges meet their makers
Can't slow down
Burning that four-barrel speed
A battle cry to treat this absence

Let me back into your world
At the blink of the eye
No uncertain terms
Let me back into your world

Spent the promises
Spent the meantime
Through ins and outs
Of halfway house boundaries
Leave this impasse
If you're gonna leave anything
Just don't leave here
Without speaking your mind

Let me back into your world
At the blink of the eye
No uncertain terms
Let me back into your world