

If Only

Sondre Lerche

My baby's building a sand castle
Someday we're gonna live on the shores
But nowadays we just hold our breath
Until the meeting next Monday and it's going through the roof
We're blowing through the roof
If only you guys could see us

Me and my baby we bicker but
I know the talented devil inside
And so we bond over raisin toes

Two absent minds
Who'll paint the sky
Two absent minds
Expecting to fly

My baby does tend to contradict
It's only natural that it's
Going through the roof
We're blowing through the roof
If only you guys could see that

I'm giving you the proof
I'm telling you the truth

They were gonna call tomorrow

Two absent minds
Expecting to fly

My baby knows how the world goes round
We'll jump the rails and abandon this town
Since have to blush when imagining
How big it's gonna be really really

Going through the roof
We're going through the roof
If only the world we followed
I'm giving you the proof
What do I have to do
To make sure you are believers

If only you guys could see us now
