Virtue And Wine

Sondre Lerche

Summer killed the ones you loved I hesitate and tell you When people leave without goodbye I lose another brick The buildings are tall The world explains all And here I stand and face myself: I lead the way for us

I've frozen down my memory It's morning when she gets up She puts on Lionel Ritchie I've already had enough The queues are long Guess I am wrong This chemical environment is getting out of hand

Virtue and wine cannot help you swim Pain and sorrow must come If you go

It´s the chemistry and the things we should´nt do I am nothing without you
