

You Are Not Who I Thought I Was

Sondre Lerche

You're not at all who I thought I was before
So who's the man standing on your bedroom floor?
Calmly putting on his shoes
Softly shutting tight the door
Crossing an ocean to be by the sea
Leaving you behind cause he's leaving with me

You are not who I thought
You are not who I thought I was when I met you
So who am I to you now?
Who am I now that I cannot forget you?
You are not who I thought I was

This guy's disguise, dressing to repress his core

Whose are the feet tiptoeing across the floor?
He's taking off his shirt and pants
And sliding underneath the sheets
Laying down the law of what dreams can be dreamed
I'm sound asleep while you're sleeping with him

You are not who I thought
You are not who I thought I was when I met you
So who am I to you now?
Who am I now that I cannot forget you?
You are not who I thought I was

I was
I was
I was
I was
Was
