

Cold

Stabbing Westward

Our first kiss set my soul on fire
Consumed me with a burning desire
Inside you I finally felt whole
When I whispered "I love you", you froze and said nothing at all

How did you get so cold?
How did you get so cold?
I can see in your eyes
There's nothing inside
How did you get so cold, so cold?

It's a silent scream through my head
I realized that my passion was dead
Inside you I felt so alone

Like a fool who has fallen in love with an angel of stone

How did you get so cold?
How did you get so cold?
I can see in your eyes
There's nothing inside
How did you get so cold, so cold?

The fire that ravaged my soul
Is dead now and the ashes are cold

How did you get so cold?
How did you get so cold?
I can see in your eyes
There's nothing inside
How did you get so cold, so cold?
