

Can't Live Without Your Love

Stryper

Girl I've gotta tell you something
That I don't ever say enough
You took my life from next to nothing
When I was down and things were rough

Another place, a new dimension
That I had never been before
And far beyond my comprehension
You've opened up a buried door

Woman
I can't live without your love
Every moment
Is just what this dream's made of?
I can't live without your love
I can't live without your love

Now I'm feeling resolution

Every time you look at me
Your beauty is my restitution
The reason that this blind man sees

Woman
I can't live without your love
Every moment
Is just what this dream's made of?
No, I can't live without your love
I can't live without your love

Woman
I can't live without your love
Every moment
Is just what this dream's made of?
No, I can't live without your love
I can't live without your love
