

I Don't Dance

Sunrise Avenue

I don't wanna grow up,
I don't wanna see sex and the city,
Lust for a minute.
I don't wanna do that,
I don't wanna let go on the floor tonight.

And I can't hear nothing, but beats and sounds
That don't feel good inside.
I got jeans too tight, it's all too loud.
My feet can't hear the orders from my mind.

I don't dance 'cause tonight you love somebody,
Somebody new.
I don't dance 'cause the moves don't want my body,
I'll learn to hate them too.
Now you dance to our songs □ I need them too.
I don't dance 'cause tonight you love somebody new.

I don't need the feedback,
I know that I'm stuck with the past
And this might last.
I don't need a restart,
I don't wanna re-oil myself tonight.

I know it's a little bit sad and strange,
I stay alone in the shade.
I don't wanna dance, I feel betrayed
'Cause somebody else is playing with my babe.

I don't dance 'cause tonight you love somebody,
Somebody new.
I don't dance 'cause the moves don't want my body,
I'll learn to hate them too.
Now you dance to our songs □ I need them too.
I don't dance 'cause tonight you love somebody new.

Now the crowd goes wild, it's such a mess
And I can't escape this emptiness.

No I don't dance 'cause tonight you love somebody,
Somebody new.
I don't dance 'cause the moves don't want my body,
I'll learn to hate them too.

I don't dance 'cause tonight you love somebody,
Somebody new.
I don't dance 'cause the moves don't want my body,
I'll learn to hate them too.
Now you dance to our songs □ I need them too.
I don't dance 'cause tonight you love somebody new.
Somebody new.
