

Sail Away With Me

Sunrise Avenue

There's a hundred love boats,
all around me,
and they all make the waves too high.
There's a heavy burden,
on my shoulders,
and it slowly pulls me down.

I just have no one to sail with me,
I just have no one to sail with me.

Chorus:

Would you sail away with me?
Could you leave it all behind and float away,
and to lie beside me,
when the sun goes down?
Would you take me as I am?
I would hold you all the way I'd understand,
we will break the strongest waves to see the land.

There's some in the water,
close to drowning,
and I'm always a stroke behind.
The taken sailors,
don't realize,
how they'd need to respect their wives.

I just have no one who would sail with me,
I just have no one.

Chorus:

Would you sail away with me?
Could you leave it all behind and float away,
and to lie beside me,
when the sun goes down?
Would you take me as I am?
I would hold you all the way I'd understand.
we will break the strongest waves to see the land.

Would you sail away with me?
Could you leave it all behind and float away,
and to lie beside me,
when the sun goes down?
Would you take me as I am?
I would hold you all the way I'd understand.
we will break the strongest waves to see the land.

The wind is calm,
the ocean sleeps,
we must leave now.
The sky is dark,
others are gone,
we must leave now.

The wind is calm,
the ocean sleeps,
we must leave now.
The sky is dark,

others are gone,
we must leave now

Chorus:

Would you sail away with me?
Could you leave it all behind and float away,
and to lie beside me,
when the sun goes down?
Would you take me as I am?
I would hold you all the way I'd understand.
we will break the strongest waves to see the land.

Would you sail away with me?
Could you leave it all behind and float away,
and to lie beside me,
when the sun goes down?
Would you take me as I am?
I would hold you all the way I'd understand.
we will break the strongest waves to see the land.
