

Daydreams About White Lines

Sunshine

I can't believe how deep I am lost in the ocean of words what crushed me badly frozen winter past
just take me down

I am just looking, looking for something just crushed and down
it is Monday
daydreams coming
through eyes directly
and on the summer sky
you could see end of the rainbow

she wore the tears
and I am little confused that is no make sense at all selection and infection
just take me down
my name is you
midday shadows

I came as ice, I came as star it is Monday, daydreams coming through eyes

I wanna go away, I wanna move over there I am gonna look out of the window I wanna go back to sleep
does anybody know a way that I could see you float away over my head
how deserve

she is come to find me
to come and find me

my dazzle princess
you're frozen queen
