Cool

Superchunk

We're just putting pieces together I feel like a thief I feel like a fool I will rearrange this forever 'Cause I think it's lame But I think it's cool I think it's cool I heard this song on the radio once I stole a bar I stole a drink I used the last straw for my ink Sometimes I fear I neglect to think Sometimes I fear We're just pulling pieces apart A piece of this is yours I'm calling it art I know it's lame And it breaks my heart It breaks my It breaks my heart I heard this song on the radio once I stole a bar I stole a drink I used the last straw for my ink Sometimes I fear I neglect to think Sometimes I fear There's nothing new There's nothing new Everything's borrowed Everything's used There's nothing new There's nothing new Everything's borrowed Everything's used There's nothing new But we know it's cool And we're cooler than you And you know it's true I heard this song on the radio once I stole a bar I stole a drink I used the last straw for my ink Sometimes I fear I neglect to think Sometimes I fear