

Time Tracks You Down

Swing Out Sister

I've spent the best years of my life
Trying to decide what's wrong from right
When I had no one to turn to Told a few lies to get me by
Sometimes the truth can be unkind
I didn't want to hurt you

Someone find me the strength to get by
To keep on for the rest of my life
Somewhere I've been that's already gone
Find me a place that I can call home

Time tracks you down
When love's been gone
Time tracks you down
When you find yourself alone

I thought I'd find sweet love one day
Until I threw it all away
Doing things that I'm not supposed to

So many years have been and gone
Been reminiscent for too long
Over love nothing came close to

Someone find me the strength to get by
To keep on for the rest of my life
Somewhere I've been that's already gone
Find me a place that I can call home
Can't stop running away with my mind
People and places I've left behind
I can't stop myself from crying out loud
Now you're not around

Time tracks you down
When love's been gone
Time tracks you down
When you find yourself alone
Time tracks you down
When love's been gone
Time will track you down
When you find yourself alone
Can't stop running away with my mind
Time will track you down
Time tracks you down

Time...
