

Angry Girl

Syleena Johnson

Hey, yeah
All I want is to be loved,
And treated like I'm supposed to
But unfortunately I am judged
By what you've done to him before me.
Now he thinks that all women are no good,
You ruined him for me
A vicious cycle you started,
And because of you
He can't be opened ahh!

[Chorus:]

Angry girl, you know you're breaking my heart,
Because you're making it so hard
For women like me to find Prince Charming!
I'm telling you angry girl,
You should learn how to smile sometimes
Before you're happiness passes you by
And you never get to know what love truly means!

How did you get like this,
Did someone take you for granted?
Do you like waking up to no one
But lonely and sadness?
Now your mood is a rerun and you can't seem,
To change the channel,
Girl you gotta get free from this bondage
Before it destroys you!

[Chorus:]

Angry girl, you know you're breaking my heart,
Because you're making it so hard
For women like me to find Prince Charming!
I'm telling you angry girl,
You should learn how to smile sometimes
Before you're happiness passes you by
And you never get to know what love truly means!

And if you find the love inside you
You can have an open mind and
From your anger, you can be free!
Ohhhh if you listen you will find
What you've been missing all this time
And in your heart you'll discover your peace!

[Chorus:]

Angry girl, you know you're breaking my heart,
Because you're making it so hard
For women like me to find Prince Charming!
I'm telling you angry girl,
You should learn how to smile sometimes
Before you're happiness passes you by
And you never get to know what love truly means!
