

Step Into Love

Tedashii

Step into love like you've never been hurt before
Step into trust like you've never been burnt before
Would you just step in your heart and up in your soul?
I'll be waiting when you let go
Step into love like you've never been, never been hurt before

Go

Last year was so hard, I almost gave it up
But even Lazarus had hope, God, I pray You raise me up
It came to light who was in the dark, I don't know who to trust
So many actors who just want a part, they'll take a piece of us
But I can't let go, I tighten my grip
I hold on to hope, and fight to the end
People may change, God is the same, why would I quit?
I've been through the storm, live with the pain, but I'm still in

Step into love like you've never been hurt before
Step into trust like you've never been burnt before
Would you just step in your heart and up in your soul?
I'll be waiting when you let go
Step into love like you've never been, never been hurt before

Don't you ever turn back, we not going that way
Tomorrow ain't ever promised, so let's not waste the day
Heart broke, but I won't break
Can't find freedom tryna escape
Going through, you gotta go through
The only way is when I find faith, yeah
"Come to Me," what He said to me
But all I see is this angered sea
Beyond the boat, where I think it's safe
But in Him I can face the waves
Storm is real, I feel, but so is Who I'm living for Walk on water with the Father, know He'll carry me to shore
Every L is just another lesson
I refuse to live and second guess Him
When I let Him down, it tried to take me down
But I ain't bring it up and I just try to help, yeah
Step into love
I know that it's tough
I know He's in love
I ain't givin' up

You made it past all the past, you're a miracle
He's always there, cast your cares when it's difficult
Don't let your past hold you back, you're a miracle, miracle, miracle

Step into love like you've never been hurt before
Step into trust like you've never been burnt before
Would you just step in your heart and up in your soul?
I'll be waiting when you let go
Step into love like you've never been, never been hurt before
