

Live In The Moment

Teenage Fanclub

You're so sweet and you're so fine
There's a glint in your eye
You've been dark as a knife
Out of luck, out of life

Live in the moment
You know that nothing this good can last forever
Embrace the here and now
For now we're here and now together
Feel good not knowing
What tomorrow and what's following may bring
Need only think about today

There's no god and there's no heaven
There are men and there are women
Who can say what's down the line
So chase that thought from your mind

Live in the moment
You know that nothing this good can last forever
Embrace the here and now
For now we're here and now together
Feel good not knowing
What tomorrow and what's following may bring
Need only think about today

Live in the moment
You know that nothing this good can last forever
Embrace the here and now
For now we're here and now together
Feel good not knowing
What tomorrow and what's following may bring
Need only think about today
