Reflecting

Terence Trent D'Arby

Reflecting the still of the water Reflecting the silvery sky Reflecting the stars in the galaxy Are you and I

It's been said that some mystery
Is essential if in love you wanna be
If that is true then she is my stigma
But I don't mind loving an enigma

Reflecting the still of the water Reflecting the sun as it shines Reflecting the moon in her solitude Are you and I

I have learned that my intuition
Is a guide to my souls` ambition
And I know that fear is a liar
It will keep you from soaring higher
Reflecting the still of the water
Reflecting the love in your sigh
Reflecting the u in the universe
Are you and I

You can go and find a mirror And love will let you see her Then your eyes will open clearly `Cause everything is merely

Reflecting the still of the water Reflecting the silvery sky Reflecting the stars in the galaxy Are you and I
