

Love Is Coming Down

The Almost

My heart is a beating drum
An endless phrase that won't let up
I can't make it free, this I know
I always get back here
To the wellspring of my fears
This insatiable endless war around and around

I will always try and see
The truth at any cost

At the call of my madness
There's a hope that I can't hide
Waiting for me to let it out
In the den of the sickness
Reality comes to light
Dust yourself off
Love is coming down

On the outside there's no peace
On the outside I look so pale
I can't make it free, this I know
Please send a rope of hope
Please send a token of war
Take my blinders off if it's over

I will always try and say
The truth at any cost

At the call of my madness
There's a hope that I can't hide
Waiting for me to let it out
In the den of the sickness
Reality comes to light
Dust yourself off
Love is coming down

This is the truth, this is my word
This is me calling to surrender

At the call of my madness
There's a hope that I can't hide
Waiting for me to let it out
In the den of the sickness
Reality comes to light
Dust yourself off
Love is coming down
Dust yourself off
Love is coming down
Dust yourself off
Love is coming down
