

Running

The Beautiful Girls

You come around say 'I need you'
You come around say 'I need you' would you
Come be with me would you want to?
Come be with me would you want to?
Would you?

Up in the morning and the rain keeps falling.
Home in the evening and you're still not calling.
We try to move, but we keep on falling down,
down...

And, all these things that we don't say
And, all these things that we don't say, won't say
When will we see it's the wrong way?
When will we see it's the wrong way?
There's way

Too many reasons to ignore this surely.
I'm bound to tell you how I feel so poorly.
But I'm over running with this same old story now.
now

And I've been running with my sights on you and I'll keep running 'til this day gets through
I got no money on me, yes that's true
We just keep running
We get up in the morning and we walk outside
This world we're living in is just no run, no hide
They never would believe me if I say we tried
We just keep running
