Too Young To Love

Once, now and then and never again Once, now and then and never again All night we turn and turn It makes sense to turn again All night we turn and turn Innocence, too young to love Alone

Once, now and then and never again [x4] Break

Once, now and then and never again Once, now and then and never again

All night we turn and turn It makes sense to turn again All night we turn and turn Innocence, too young to love Alone

Alone alone alone And you're too young to love And you're too young to love

Once, now and then and never again Once, now and then and never again

All night we turn and turn It makes sense to turn again All night we turn and turn In a sense too young to love Alone The Big Pink
