

The world has turned and left me here
Alone with nothing but my fears
I feel the stares of ancient cracks
Mirror reflects just what I lack

I am standing here dying to be
To mean anything to anyone but me
I am naked now bereft of love's beginning
I am a shadow of what was

The victims of contempt
There will be nothing left
Secrets of my being are from me kept
There will be no resolve
For this wreck of nerves
Just to the ends of those
To the end that I deserve

I am standing here dying to be
To mean anything to anyone but me
I am naked now bereft of love's beginning
I am a shadow of what was

A shadow of what was
You are dead to me
I am dead to me
My pulse has stopped you see
And for eternity
As Satan laughs, we will burn forever
Scream abysmally

The world has turned and left me here
Alone with nothing but my fears
I feel the stares of ancient cracks
Mirror reflects just what I lack
I am alone
I am alone
I'll die alone
Beneath the bitter stone

I am standing here dying to be
To mean anything to anyone but me
I am naked now bereft of loves beginning
I am a shadow of what was
I'll tie this noose up just because
Such life ends abysmally
