

All You Need Is A Wall

The Books

Yeah... and if it's a wall, then you should cast a Shadow.
Or maybe possibly, it's a thought you think is true,
When you appear to be: belief, belief.

I never loved a wall so much.

Hey yeah...
Asleep in a chair,

Where the two go click.

Look at the floor, flat pattern order.
Oh, it's the great power one receives from a very modest
Source,
Oh, and you don't feel a thing,
When you drink from the springs of living water.
