

Dimes In The Jar

The Brian Setzer Orchestra

Don't you know baby
The faster you get there
The longer it takes you to leave
And ain't it so
That the nicer they treat you
The more they're inclined to deceive
So it goes baby I'm here for the long run
They told me to come as you are
I found a good one
She looks like she could run
She looks like the good one so far
Never got handed a lollar by no one
I earned every dime in the jar

She wants to catch you
And she wants to fetch you
And she wants to wrap you all up
Into a bundle, if you make a bundle
Of case you're just plain outta luck
It starts our dandy
And she'll give you candy
But that's only part of the trap
She gets an attorney
And his name is Bernie
And he'll string you up like a cat
Never got handed a dollar by no one
I earned every dime just like that

Every dime in the jar
Comes from runnin'
From dive bar to bar
Every dime in the jar comes from
Diggin' and scratchin' and
Stealin' the gold from the stars
Please understand me
Ain't nobody handing me
Dimes that I keep in the jar

When I was a young boy
My daddy had nothin'
Momma would save every dime
Now mommas have nannies
And house cleaning spannies
And daddies will lose every time
They don't save dimes now
Not even dollars
They don't save nothin' you earn
Now I don't know how
I'm sure in the end now
There's some place
Where thy gonna burn
Never got handed a dollar
By no one
And here is the lesson I learned

Every dime in the jar
Comes from runnin'

From dive bar to bar
Comes from runnin'
Please understand me
