

Curtain Call

The Bunny the Bear

Sleep, you've been seen with another.
It's sick, and it's killing me.
Grab a stone, make her...
Breathe, let my lungs act as water,
As clean, as we'll ever be.

Do you see it?

And we draw with light!
The little things that used to matter,
Aren't what they seem!
And all these little things,
All you really left me.

Yeah you said goodnight!
You told me everybody
Had to live on finest intentions.
Or we lose this fight!
But all these broken things
Are all you ever left me!

Sleep, (sleep!) you've been seen with another.
It's sick, (it's sick!) and it's killing me.
Grab a stone, make her...
Breathe, let my lungs act as water,
As clean, as we'll ever be.

Do you see it?

The birds break flow.
We justify our self-indulgence
'cause there's nothing to do!
I wish my words rang true.
But then again, I never meant to!

Kiss of summer yeah, you smelled so sweet.
I take a bite and I'm surprised to find the taste of meat.
I swallow water looking for some relief.
Where's my god? where's my secret, when there's nothing to keep?!

Sleep, (sleep!) you've been seen with another.
It's sick, (it's sick!) and it's killing me.
Grab a stone, make her...
Breathe, let my lungs act as water,
As clean, as we'll ever be.

Do you see it?

Do you see it?

The lords have spread this havoc,
Yes my heart is worn,
Like the book your mother used to read.
As you slept so soundly,
And you learned heartache.
We all lie...

We all die.

Sleep, (sleep!) you've been seen with another.
It's sick, (it's sick!) and it's killing me.
Grab a stone, make her...
Breathe, let my lungs act as water,
As clean, as we'll ever be.

(do you see it?)

Sleep, (sleep!) you've been seen with another.
It's sick, (it's sick!) and it's killing me.
Grab a stone, make her...
Breathe, let my lungs act as water,
As clean, as we'll ever be.

Do you see it?
