

Sick, Sad Eyes

The Bunny the Bear

I'm left here emotionless
I taste the colors, of your skin
It made me sick to say that I've gone astray
And I would do it again if you let me have my way

If I could slip you out of your lingerie
If I could slip you out of your clothes
I find a way to make excuses for the way I behave
And I lie through my teeth, until the dust has settled evenly!

Sick, sad eyes! (why don't we talk about it?)
Compromise!
Sick, sad eyes! (why don't we talk about it?)
Compromise!

Close, your eyes. I'll take you home,
When one last kiss will not suffice.
Close, your eyes. I'll take you home,
When one last kiss, it brings the death of me!

Close, your eyes. I'll take you home
When just one kiss will not suffice.
I want you broken on the floor,
For just one night.
I'll take you home and let your body
Take what's left of me!

Close, your eyes. I'll take you home
When just a kiss will not suffice.
I want you broken on the floor,
For just one night.
Just spread your legs,
I'll let my instincts get the best of me!

Sick, sad eyes! (why don't we talk about it?)
Compromise!
Sick, sad eyes! (why don't we talk about it?)
Compromise!

Close, your eyes. I'll take you home,
When one last kiss will not suffice.
Close, your eyes. I'll take you home,
When one last kiss, it brings the death of me!

Close, your eyes. (why don't we talk about it?)
Close, your eyes.
When one last kiss, it brings the death of me!
(why don't we talk about it?...)
