

Feel

The Church

For all time
Looking for something to remind me
Something out the corner of my eye

Why can't I feel it?
Why should I try?

Bump into a stranger
But that stranger is strangely familiar
How could I let it slip by

Why can't I feel it?
Can you tell me why?

When I nearly had the connection sussed
It slips right off my tongue
And timing's off, things get jumbled up
In a fever when you are young
But I know who's in there behind those eyes

So say goodbye
There can never be an ending
We are endless like the sky

Why can't I feel it?
Is it just a lie?

Why can't I feel it?
For all time?
For all time?
