Ride Into The Sunset

The Church

Out in the open high in the sun Blue fields of sky where the West is one I fell into town and I covered up my wings Yet to get a taste for everything You're gonna ride into the sunset I guess you can count me in Don't feed the fire in here Don't tell a soul This uniform and war Well it's all been done before I'm nervous playing someone else's role Take a look around you these walls aint real There's nothing behind these facades Get our gifts exchanged, why do you think that's strange Why do you make it so hard
