Green Is the Colour

Green is the colour Of her eyes...

I see her drifting In her sleep Through the trees

The forest darker Than the whispers In my dreams

Jealously she hides Her smile Looks into the endless skies And green is the colour Of her eyes... Green is the colour Of her eyes...

I hear her talking With the leaves In the dark

The crooked branches Hanging heavy In her heart

Jealously she hides Her smile Looks into the endless skies

And green is the colour Of her eyes... Green is the colour Of her eyes...

Green is the colour When I look in her eyes

A stare that will cut you Like a knife Through these starry skies

Green is the colour Of her eyes... Green is the colour Of her eyes... Green is the colour Of her eyes... The Coral
