

Dreaming Again

The Coronas

I can feel a few things
Brewing up in my mind
And it's all consuming
I've left what I once was behind
See I've had it so easy
Or at least I misunderstood
But kissing her made me greedy
Now I want her much more than I should

Desire has disturbed my slumber
And I forgot how it felt
To want something so much that it hurts you
You wouldn't dream to dream of anything else
Oh Oh...

On the off chance it could be
I let my ego be brave
I said I think that you're lovely
I was never one for playing games anyway

Desire has disturbed my slumber
And I forgot how it felt
To want something so much that it hurts you
You wouldn't dream to dream of anything else
Oh Oh...

Desire has disturbed my slumber
And I forgot how it felt
To want something so much that it hurts you
You wouldn't dream to dream of anything else
Despite all my previous efforts
I don't regret anything
Cause if I spend all my time dreaming of her
At least I am dreaming again
Oh Oh...
