

Most Important

The Courteeners

I wish you would come to and see them for all that they are.
Now I can see that you needed me when you grabbed my hand at the bar.

You were asking for help and I know that you've dealt with the circus many times before.

Now I know that and I'm looking back I should've followed you step by step to the stage door

You may not know it cause I don't always show it.. But you are the most important thing in my life [x2]

Badly dressed, easily impressed, I swear these aren't my friends.

They sing the same old song, and I don't belong here, tell me when it ends.

It's just one more drink, at least I think, that's what I uttered over and over an hour ago.

Selfish blunder, sends me under, I should've followed you step by step to the stage door

You may not know it cause I don't always show it.. But you are the most important thing in my life
